Latin American Film Series: Border Crossing

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF DEMOCRACY

... a joint project of St. Mary's College of Maryland and Historic St. Mary's City

The Latin American Film Series is a yearlong event at St. Mary's College of Maryland. The film series is titled, Border Crossings, to emphasize the themes explored by these five different films. Beyond geographical demarcations, the series aims to help us see 'borders' in a new way and to examine the boundaries placed on us by differences in income, differences in governments, language and social norms. The films will provoke discussions and new ideas among students about the Latin American community within the United States and the politics associated with new political trends in South America.

This series is part of the 2007-2008 Latin American Symposium. These events are supported by the Center for the Study of Democracy with funding from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.
