

My name is Molly McKee. I am from Hyattsville, Maryland and graduated from Elizabeth Seton High School in 2006. I'm a sophomore and a Political Science/Sociology major. On campus I am involved in Gospel Choir and Camera Club. I'm planning on getting a Master's in Public Health, because I would like to work on policies affecting disease control and healthcare in the U.S. and around the world. I have worked at The Brookings Institution for the past two summers.