

Continuing Your International Education

➤ Become an Student Advocate for Global Engagement

A Student Advocate for Global Engagement is an experienced St. Mary's College student who assists international students new to the United States or just new to St. Mary's College in getting to know life here at the College. They also act as peer mentors to SMCM students seeking information about various study abroad programs. If you are interested in becoming a Student Advocate, contact the IE office at ie@smcm.edu (GL230, x4202).

➤ Take a class related to international issues

➤ Join a club with an international focus

SOAN Club

East Asian Studies Club

Hispanic Student Union

International Students Organization

Model United Nations

Amnesty International

Hillel

Indian Studies association

Irish Student Union

Travelers Club

➤ Speak to local students about your experience

Speak with global diplomacy or foreign language students about your experiences studying abroad. Contact LaRita Hagar in IE if you are interested in this outreach activity.

➤ Participate in activities sponsored by International Education

Each semester the International Education office sponsors a variety of trips to Annapolis, Baltimore, and Washington. We also host information programs and more. Stop by the office to find out about this semester's scheduled events.

➤ Write an article about your experience

Let others know about your experience by writing an article for the Point News, the River Gazette, or any other publication you're interested in. We will assist you in getting your article published.

➤ International Education Week

This week in October brings a variety of international activities and speakers! Be on the lookout for more information every fall semester.

➤ Check out International films or publications in the Media Center