The Joe Carroll award honors the memory of a staff member who demonstrated an immeasurable amount of dedication and service to our community.

The winner of the award for 2017 is Frances Titus, Fiscal Associate II in Schaefer Hall.

When you mention Frances Titus you think “community.” Frances consistently provides effective and sensitive support to all she encounters and will quickly respond to any interaction with “Is there something I can do for you?”

Frances is an exceptionally caring individual who is unquestionably committed to her faculty, our students and to the College community. Her service to SMCM has been steady and outstanding for over a quarter of a decade.

She walks the St. Mary’s Way in her professional and personal interactions so much so that the gentleman engraving her name on the award plaque that is displayed in the Campus Center refused payment stating, “I am honored to be a part of this award for a wonderful lady!”

Lisa Youngborg – Student Affairs

My two lifelong friends and I spent a week together in Arizona and made a pilgrimage to Winslow, Arizona. Just standin' on the corner!!! Ha!

The three of us have been friends since we were 1. We get together every year now at a different place. This year we decided to give Flagstaff a try and what do you know, there was Winslow!! Big fans of Eagles and Glen Frey so we had to go. The little town of Winslow created this corner in 1999 to honor the song and the singer. It was a 5 minute stop but a life time memory!!

Lee Capristo – Marketing

A beautiful spot for a vacation is Smith Mountain Lake in southwestern Virginia. The lake is famous for large mouth bass. One morning, we saw an eight-point buck swimming across the lake and a black bear on shore.

Lisa Smith – Planning and Facilities

On July 31, 2016, my daughter Samantha and I along with my brother and niece traveled to Europe for a 14-day cruise aboard the Caribbean Princess through Northern Europe. We traveled to the British Isles (Guernsey, Jersey); London, England; Belfast, Northern Ireland; Cork and Killarney, Ireland; Inverness, Glasgow, Edinburgh, and Invergordon, Scotland; and Paris, France.

After first visiting the British Isles, we went to Ireland. In Cork, we toured the Jameson Whiskey Distillery where we sampled whiskey, and visited a museum about the Titanic (Cork was its last port of call before it went out to sea). We then traveled to Belfast, Northern Ireland, where we visited Titanic Belfast, a museum on the site where the Titanic was built and launched.

Next we visited Scotland. We went to Edinburgh Castle to witness the performance of the Military Tattoo and then went into the Highlands to visit Urquhart Castle and Loch Ness (no, we didn't get to see Nessie). From there we went on to Paris, France, where we toured the Louvre Museum, saw the Arc de Triomphe, the Seine River, and had lunch in 58 Tour Eiffel restaurant located in the Eiffel Tower.

We ended our journey in England, where we visited Windsor Castle, saw the Thames River, and toured Stonehenge. Our experiences were many, the beauty of the sites took our breath away, and the people and cultures that we met and experienced will stay with me for a life time.

I live on the Potomac River in Tall Timbers, so every day feels like a STAYCATION! Here is a photo from last night at my landlord's private beach by Tall Timbers Marina. If any staff members are looking for "the best bloody Mary in Southern Maryland," they should head to the Marina's Reluctant Navigator Restaurant.

Try this summer treat!

David Sansotta, Bon Appétit

Refreshing and juicy but with a toasted complexity that is balanced by the lime, this unique appetizer is as tasty as it is hydrating. Serves 12.

1 medium watermelon
Zest of 1 lime
1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons lime juice (about 5-6 limes), divided
1 tablespoon olive oil
2 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons diced fresh mint, divided
1/4 teaspoon medium-coarse Kosher salt

1/2 cup plain yogurt sauce (optional)

- Slice watermelon into 3/4-inch thick wedges, keeping the rind on.
- Whisk together 1/4 cup lime juice, lime zest, olive oil, honey, and cayenne.

If making yogurt sauce, whisk yogurt with remaining 2 tablespoons lime juice and 2 tablespoons mint in a separate bowl. Set aside both mixtures.

Heat outdoor or stovetop grill to high. When grill is hot, brush each side of watermelon slices with lime-honey mixture and grill until you see grill marks, about 1-2 minutes, then flip and grill another minute.

Remove watermelon from grill, sprinkle with salt and mint leaves. Repeat until all watermelon is done or grill watermelon as needed. If using, serve yogurt sauce on the side.

Paula Ropshaw – Retired, Student Activities

This spring I had the opportunity to go on an unbelievable vacation. We flew into Houston, Texas for a family wedding. Since I am retired and we were already going more than half way across the United States we decided to take advantage of the distance. We rented a car and for 3 weeks we toured the southwest.

What an experience! For someone who had never seen the desert, this was a treat of a lifetime. We hit 6 states: Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Arizona, and Nevada, not necessarily in that order. National Parks? How about 8 of them: Arches, Mt. Zion, Canyon Lands, and Bryce in Utah; Mesa Verda in Colorado; Guadalupe Mountains in Texas; Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico; and of course the Grand Canyon in Arizona and the Hoover Dam.

There were lots of neat side trips: city of Williams, Arizona, known as the town on Route 66; Abilene, Texas, known as the originating city for most of the western cattle drives. We ate in little diners and slept in local motels. We drove on the All America Scenic Byways. There were times when we would drive for 3 or 4 hours and never see another car in front or behind us. Want a real thrill? Drive the Scenic Byway 12, nestled between Capital Reef National Park and Bryce Canon National Park. It is also known as the NO U TURN ROAD. No place on that road is wide enough to make a U Turn and there are no guard rails keeping you from plummeting 600 feet to the bottom of a canyon. It is also called one of the most beautiful places on earth.

Jeannette Modic – Web Services

This summer we are headed to Pirateland (www.pirateland.com/), a fun-packed campground in Myrtle Beach. Pirateland used to be an amusement park. It has a splash/water park, lazy river, and other pools, mini golf, PLUS it is right on the beach! They have camper, tent sites, and rental units available.

Joe Carroll Award Winner

The Joe Carroll award honors the memory of a staff member who demonstrated an immeasurably amount of dedication and service to our community.

The winner of the award for 2017 is Frances Titus, Fiscal Associate II in Schofen Hall.

When you think of Frances Titus you think “community.” Frances consistently provides effective and sensitive support to all she encounters and will quickly respond to any interaction with “Is there something I can do for you?”

Frances is an exceptionally caring individual who is unquestionably committed to her faculty, our students and to the College community. Her service to SMCM has been steady and outstanding for over a quarter of a decade.
