Please describe why you would like to participate in the SMRP. Are you interested in working on a St. Mary's Project related to SMRP?

List courses you have taken in biology, public policy, env. studies and/or other areas that may be relevant.

There are several components to the SMRP with opportunities for independent studies. Possible study areas include tidal and nontidal monitoring, environmental education, web site maintenance, public policy and oral history. Opportunities are also available for research on specific environmental problems related to the SMRP (e.g., ecology of SAV, how land use affects water quality, etc.). Which of these studies are you interested in participating in?
