

THE MARK TWAIN LECTURE SERIES ON AMERICAN HUMOR AND CULTURE

“Mark Twain and ‘The Metaphysics of Indian Hating’ ”

Kerry Driscoll
Assoc. Professor of English
St. Joseph College (Conn.)

A much-in-demand Twain scholar and frequent lecturer at the Mark Twain House and Museum in Hartford, Conn., Driscoll’s specialty is Twain’s evolving attitude toward, and conflicting representation of, Native Americans in his work. She was awarded a fellowship from the National Endowment for the Humanities in 2007 to work on a book whose title will be Mark Twain among the Indians. The book will be completed later this year.

Driscoll is a regular contributor to the Mark Twain Journal and the American Literature Association.
